DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The walls of this two story, two bay wide building are covered with dark red ersatz brick and the 'A' roof is covered with black asphalt shingles. The windows on both storys have 6/6 sash and wide white trim. Prior to its removal to the south gable, the entrance was located on the south side of the facade, now the position of a window. Its position on the gable gives freer access to the building, and also a small 'A' roof hood, which would be impossible because of the proximity to the sidewalk.

Behind the building is a two bay deep leanto addition which appears to slope with the lot. On the north gable is a stuccoed brick chimney.

Because of its seperation from the neighboring dwellings, its lines are more discernible and attractive than if it were close to the other buildings.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The building is un-important architecturally. However, it is a typical structure which maintains the continuity of the block.

The Conrey family leased this property from the Bayard's in 1865 and the house was probably built shortly thereafter as an investment property. This is another of the plain, workingman's houses on George Street.
